

100% success rate during Lextons February auction with figures in excess of £3.2m achieved.

With all properties being sold prior to the day of the auction, a sell out took place with Auctioneer James Pepper explaining why.

Auctioneer James Pepper: "I'm delighted to see such strong results so early on in the year, and it's wonderful to have achieved such great prices for our clients. That said, my preference is always to take the majority of stock to the room and have buyers battle it out on the day, but when such strong prices are being achieved prior, then for many of our clients the temptation is often too high."

Entries are now being invited for our April auction.
